

RETIREMENT HOBBIES THAT CAN MAKE YOU MONEY

COLLECTING

Whether you've started a collection of coins, old toys, comics or action figures, a lot of collections are worth more than you might realize. When you retire, you have a little more time to research these collections, gauge their value and sell them for a potential profit.

ARTS & CRAFTS

It is the era of the crafter. With websites like Etsy and Ebay, your work can be sold easily and inexpensively. If you have a knack for knitting, painting, drawing, gluing or bedazzling, now's the time to look into marketing your talent to the masses. You may even have a little fun while bringing in some spending money.

COACHING/ TUTORING

At this juncture in life, you have a lot to offer. You've won swimming medals, essay contests, piano competitions or starred in 13 community theater productions...and you loved every second of it. Retirement is a great time to start sharing all you've learned with others, while making a little money from it on the side.

WRITING

With the internet has come a demand for information and skilled writers to share it. If you have a way with words, there's most likely an outlet that needs your abilities. Some people even make full-time salaries freelancing. So do a little investigating, and see if any companies are seeking writers to cover topics you love.

CAR REPAIR/ RESTORATION

The ability to restore old cars and repair new ones is a highly sought after skill. Knowledge of cars is something most people don't have, but regularly need. If you love all things cars, consider charging for your hobby.
